Joseph Aurisy, Aged 22, Drowns in Creek at The Eddyville Falls

With Two Companions Was On a Camping Trip and Fished Their Tent on the Banks of Creek.

BODY FOUND

Efforts To Revive Young Man Who Had Been in Water About 20 Minutes of No Avail.

Joseph Aurisy of 493 East 162nd street, the Bronx, lost his life in the Rondout creek this morning when he went swimming with a companion. Evidently the 22-year-old youth, who was not a strong swimmer, became exhausted or was seized with a cramp and sank in the 15 or more feet of water about midstream above the Eddyville falls.

Aurisy and two chums, Joseph Thylstrup of 513 West 176th street, New York, and Robert Carroll of 26 Shepherd avenue, Brooklyn, on a camping trip, pitched their tent on the bank of the creek between the bridge and falls that cross the stream at Eddyville, Thursday night.

"Joe went in here," said Thylstrup, standing on the Eddyville side of the creek, "and swam toward the other side. I was in the creek, nearer the falls and heard him call for help once. I turned and saw him go under. He never came to the top as far as I could see."

Carroll, from what could be learned, was not around when the drowning occurred, having gone to the village.

Thylstrup and campers along the creek notified the sheriff's office, the Kingston police and fire department. Jaffor Abram Molyneux and several deputies responded as did the rescue crew of the Central Hudson, which had heard of the drowning through the police, and members of the fire department under the direction of Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy.

Body Recovered.

Using the grappling hooks brought by Molyneux, Fireman Fred LaTour and Harry D. Johnston of the Central Hudson brought up the body near where Thylstrup saw the man go down. They returned it to shore and used the inhalator in efforts to revive Aurisy, who had been in the water about 20 minutes. The prone method was resorted to, also by Firemen Ed Noble, Fred Williams, Jim Hutton, P. DeWitt, Fred LaTour and Ed Gillen and Harry Johnston.

After several hours of valiant work by the rescuers and when the victim failed to respond to stimulants injected by two physicians, Dr. Kenneth Lefevre and Dr. Maurice Silk, who were called from the Benedictine Hospital to attend Aurisy, Coroner W. Norman Conner pronounced the case of accidental drowning and removed the body to his chapel at 296 Fair street.

Information furnished by Carroll, a closer companion to Aurisy than Thylstrup, stated that the drowned man was survived by his parents and was employed by the Allyn-Barnett Insurance agency of 80 John street, New York city.

The drowning occurred some time around 10 o'clock, the sheriff's office having been notified about 10:20, at which time all of the rescue parties were sent to Eddyville.

HARRY BEATTY INJURED BY DYNAMITE CAP EXPLOSION

Marry Beatty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beatty of Hurley avenue was fatally injured Thursday when a dynamite cap exploded. The lad had procured a cap and not knowing what it was had taken it to a shop where he started to file it off to make repairs to a fishing pole. The cap exploded inflicting severe injuries about the face, hands and body where metal particles lodged. He was treated by physician and anti-tetanus serum given.

Ten Days In Jail

John Roy, 35, colored, of Goldrick's Landing, was committed to the county jail Thursday by Justice John Acker, to serve ten days on a charge of assault in the third degree. John was charged with having struck "Mandy" Jones and knocked her down during the course of a celebration late on the night of July 4.

Wants Grocery Stores To Live Up to Law

A request that grocery stores in the village of Ellenville live up to the state law, which permits opening until 10 o'clock Sunday mornings, was made to the village trustees at their meeting this week. The request for enforcement of the law was made by William Schacht, grocer, who claimed that several of the stores were open all day Sunday.

Trustee Herman J. Levine, as reported, took the position that the community depended upon the summer boarding houses for their support, that it was unfair and unjust to take away the source of livelihood from local people interested and that he believed in "mixing common sense with the law." Trustee Levine and Palmer were finally named as a committee to confer with local business men regarding the matter.

FIRE CHIEF MURPHY TO BE TENDERED A DINNER IN HIS HONOR

Members of the board of fire commissioners and representatives of the various fire companies of the city met at the city hall on Thursday evening to plan for a dinner to be tendered to Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy in honor of his elevation to the presidency of the State Fire Chiefs' Association last month at the annual convention in Jamestown. The tentative date fixed for the dinner is August 29, when the firemen and other residents will gather to honor Chief Murphy. Harry Kaplan, president of the fire board, was appointed chairman of the dinner committee.

Twenty Known Dead In Nazi Revolt, but Official Report Is 7

Deaths Of 13 Are Confirmed Including Alexander Glaser, Willi Schmid And Hans Von Seasser—Number Held Under Arrest Is Not Known

By WALTER E. BROCKMANN Associated Press Foreign Staff

Munich, Germany, July 6 (AP)—Although the official death list here remains unaltered at seven, it became known today that 20 were killed in Saturday's bloody revolt.

Ten men besides the seven officially announced have been identified and their deaths confirmed, according to reliable persons. The remaining three were minor followers of Ernst Roehm, late head of the Storm Troops.

It was learned that Alexander Glaser, a lawyer, was killed in the presence of his wife while being taken from his home. He was shot in the head while turning to reach for a bat.

The death of Willi Schmid, music critic of the newspaper Neueste Nachrichten, was chronicled in the pages of that paper this morning as "accidental."

A persistent rumor that Hans von Seasser, aristocratic commander of the Munich state police was killed, was confirmed. Excursionists told of having seen bodies on the Moosland near the Dachau concentration camp north of here Sunday morning.

One of these victims was described as having a black goatee and wearing a pin-neck.

The Brown House, storm troop headquarters, minimizes the number of men in custody, declining to give an estimate.

Among those arrested, it was learned, are three sons of the aristocratic Von Aretin family, nephews of Baron Erwin von Aretin, who was arrested for political reasons and released last spring after a year in jail. The baron has been in a sanatorium ever since.

Darrow-NRA Affair Closed by Roosevelt

Washington, July 6 (AP)—The Darrow-NRA affair, one of the most spectacular clashes of the Roosevelt administration, has been closed by a presidential order abolishing the board.

There was no immediate comment today from members of the National Recovery Board, which tossed three hot shots at Hugh S. Johnson's recovery unit and received fiery replies. Most of the men who served on the board were out of town.

The White House made public the order of abolition yesterday. It was dated June 30 and signed by President Roosevelt.

He said the board has "substantially completed its work." The chairman and two other members had resigned, he said, and "further investigations and reports would not be representative of the board as originally constituted or serve to effectuate the purposes for which it was created."

Chairman Clarence Darrow, veteran attorney, resigned about a week ago. W. O. Thompson and John F. Sinclair also withdrew.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, July 6 (AP)—The position of the treasury July 3 was: Receipts $94,746,774.18; expenditures $112,291,931.94; balance $2,687,684,597.75; customs receipts for the month $1,128,609.75. Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1) $15,812,765.51; expenditures $21,597,822.24 (including $67,584,555.97 of emergency credit); excess of expenditures $5,779,147.73; gold assets $7,365,889,886.28.

By A. D. STEFFERUD. Copyright, 1934, by The Associated Press.

Berlin, July 6 (AP)—Nazi vigilance against revolt was resumed today with disquieting reports that "something more is brewing" among friends of "liquidated" Nazi leaders.

The Nazi party spokesman said the Roehm revolution had wide ramifications and was well organized, and that those delegated by Chancellor Hitler to preserve the regime are taking no chances on Roehm's sympathizers.

Storm troopers in civilian clothes, under orders not to wear uniforms during a vacation period, were reported to have met today in the wedding district of Berlin, former stronghold of communists, and to have shouted "Revenge!"

This and other indications, the spokesman said, have brought renewed vigilance and determination to prove once and for all that "the iron fist and a strong will rules Germany."

Disquieting Reports.

Further disquieting although unsubstantiated reports from the German province of renewed anti-Jewish activities and events which have disturbed Catholics were heard in Berlin.

Meanwhile the course of government policy was believed to have taken a step toward conservatism with the delegation of new powers to Kurt Schmitt, minister of economics, who, it was hinted, might attempt to quell some aspects of the anti-Jewish activities of the government in order to better Germany's economic situation.

The strengthening of the guard in Berlin was believed to have been decided upon during Hitler's recent conferences with the Nazi party's inner council partially as a measure of preparation for the eventual disbanding of the storm troops.

The fact that the storm troops are to be scrapped, excepting for a small percentage, has not been published, but the news was spreading rapidly by word of mouth among S. A. members.

The names and number of those killed in recent "liquidations" activities, the Nazi press department said, is being withheld in order to avoid exciting friends of the dead men.

Hitler Writing

Hitler, the press department said, is preparing a long communique on the mutiny and the way he suppressed it. It was said the list of dead would be included in this communique, to appear in a few days.

An important victory for the conservative element of the Nazi government was seen today in the granting of almost autocratic commercial powers to Kurt Schmitt, minister of economics.

He is authorized to impose unlimited fines on persons and institutions who refuse to obey his orders. Schmitt had complained that his work was being hampered by more radical doctrines. He now has more or less of a free hand in directing Germany's economic program.

This development came as leaders attacked labor, financial and political problems with redoubled efforts and a spirit of "well, that's over."

The Nazi press made much of the theme of a party workers meeting at Flensburg that the "second revolution," which broke out a week ago tomorrow, has been completed and "there is work to be done."

The unsettled situation in the provinces continued a source of speculation and alarm. Conditions, especially in Silesia where Catholics and Jews are reported to be worried, and in Bavaria.

French Denial

There were reverberations over the French embassy's sharp denial that France was involved in a conspiracy against the government.

German newspapers charged General Kurt Von Schleicher, former chancellor and one of many who was killed last week-end, had conspired with France. The government itself said a "foreign power" dickered with persons in power in Germany.

Rumors that Michael Cardinal Faulhaber was under detention in Munich could not be verified and it was indicated a statement would be issued denying this.

An Associated Press correspondent who went to the home was unable to see him but learned the cardinal's palace is under surveillance.

Following government assurances that executions had ended, newspapers today printed long articles on "Foundations for reconstructing social insurance," the duties of labor leaders and "the delights of farming for young people."

Details of the Nazi conference at Flensburg were prominently displayed.

There Rudolf Hess, minister without portfolio and important lieutenant of Chancellor Hitler, told Victor Lutze, new chief of staff of the storm troops, that "in your efforts to keep the historical calling of the storm troops as a true and powerful instrument in the hands of Der Fuehrer (Hitler) you will find the support of us all."

Glory Fading. But every other indication was

Two Republicans Win Seats in Legislature By Large Majorities

Senator Bontecou and Assemblyman Daniels Will Take Seats on Tuesday When the Legislature Meets in Special Session.

SWEEP DUTCHESS

Democrats Had Hoped That the "New Deal" Might Gain Them Some Votes in Dutchess.

Albany, N. Y., July 6 (AP)—Senator Frederick H. Bontecou and Assemblyman Warren O. Daniels, New York state's two new Republican legislators, chosen by overwhelming pluralities yesterday, will take their seats next Tuesday when the legislature meets in special session.

They were elected to fill vacancies caused by the deaths of Senator J. Griswold Webb, Republican, of Hyde Park, and Assemblyman Walter L. Pratt, Massena Republican.

Bontecou, Millbrook millionaire, defeated the Democratic candidate, G. Glenn Newell, by a two to one vote, sweeping Dutchess county and Hyde Park, home of President Roosevelt, by a large plurality.

The final vote, with only three small districts in Columbia county missing, was: Bontecou 19,070; Newell 8,123. Bontecou easily carried all three counties in the district.

Daniels, Pariahville attorney, carried the Second Assembly district of St. Lawrence county by a vote of three to one over his Democratic opponent, Frederick Flanagan of Norfolk.

With 30 out of 51 districts complete the vote was: Daniels 2,214; Flanagan 776.

Both the 28th senatorial district and the St. Lawrence assembly districts are normally strongly Republican, but in the President's home district, where he made his start in politics as state senator 21 years ago, the Democrats had hoped that the "New Deal" might gain them some votes.

In every county in the district, however, the Republican candidate won a much larger percentage of the votes than in the 1932 election, when Senator Webb, a veteran of 10 years' service, was re-elected. President Roosevelt's home town of Hyde Park gave Bontecou 578 votes and Newell 316.

The voting in both elections was very light. In the senatorial race there were only 27,000 votes cast compared to 75,000 in 1932. At that time Senator Webb defeated the Democratic candidate, Robert F. Jones, by a margin of 8,785. In the Assembly contest there were approximately 5,000 votes cast compared to nearly 19,000 two years ago.

Local TERA Busy Repairing Streets

Under State Regulations Work Can Not Progress as Rapidly as Desired as Only One-Third of Money Expended Each Month Can Be For Materials, and Other Two-Thirds For Labor.

There has been some criticism expressed locally that work of rebuilding the streets as part of the work relief projects is not progressing as rapidly as desired. The reason for that is due to the fact that the local Works Division of the TERA is forced to work under state regulations which provide that only one-third of the monthly expenditures can be for material and that the other two-thirds must be expended for labor.

In order to maintain this ratio only a certain amount of street repair work can be done owing to the cost of paving material, but those in charge of the work state that it is expected to have all of the street repair work completed before the close of summer.

In order that two-thirds of the money allotted for work relief can be expended for labor the local TERA is keeping as many men as possible busy on sewer and other projects where it is not necessary to expend a large amount of money for materials.

Leo Kennedy Held For Grand Jury On Manslaughter Charge

Waived Examination When Arraigned Before Judge Culliton in Police Court—Charge Result of Death of Elizabeth Brodie on Sunday, July 1, When She Was Hurled From Car on Abell Street.

Leo Kennedy, 22, of Eddyville, through his attorney, J. Edward Conway, waived examination in police court this morning, and was held by Judge Culliton to await grand jury action on a charge of manslaughter in the second degree.

Bail is to be fixed by the county judge. The arrest of Kennedy, followed an auto accident on Abell street Monday morning, July 2, in which Miss Elizabeth Brodie, of Brooklyn, was fatally injured.

At the time she was riding with Kennedy on Abell street and near the site of the old Welcome Arch the Kennedy car sideswiped another car driven by John Henry Yoe of New York city. None in the Yoe car was injured, but Miss Brodie was hurled out of Kennedy's car as it struck a huge boulder at the side of the road after being in collision with the other car. She was picked up and hurried to the Kingston Hospital but was dead when the hospital was reached.

Five For Vagrancy

Officers Harman and Fallon on Thursday afternoon paid a visit to Fair street extension and rounded up five men on charges of vagrancy. The five gave their names as Arthur Watson of Morrisville, N. J., George Purdy of Newburgh, Thomas Dever of New York, Tony Camello, of Newark, N. J., and John Curry of Schenectady.

This morning in police court all five pleaded guilty to vagrancy and were given a suspended jail sentence provided they left town at once.

To Ask Half Billion Funds For Schools

Washington, July 6 (AP)—A proposal to seek a half billion dollars in federal money for the public schools was laid before the National Education Association today.

Linked with the request, which the resolutions committee proposed to the convention, was a statement that such a grant should involve no federal control of the schools.

The committee also suggested that Roosevelt policies for slum clearance, housing and unemployment insurance be endorsed.

Still Hopeful

Oasining, N. Y., July 6 (AP)—"I'm still hopeful," Mrs. Anna Antonio declared to Mrs. Lewis E. Lawes when the Sing Sing warden's wife told the condemned woman in the prison death house today that her motion for a new trial had been denied by the Albany county court.

Zone Meeting of Mayors' Conference

A one-day regional conference of city and village officials to discuss local problems will be held in the Kingston Municipal Auditorium on Friday, October 19. At the state mayors conference in Jamestown last month it was decided to hold twelve of these regional conferences in various parts of the state and Kingston was selected as one of the cities in which to hold a conference. The sessions open at 10 o'clock in the morning and there is also an afternoon session. Mayor C. J. Heisterman received a communication from Secretary Capes of the mayors conference asking if Kingston had a meeting place and that the date of the conference had been fixed as stated.

Huge Gem Robbery Staged at Gloucester By Swanky Thieves

Five Men in Sports Clothes Carrying Machine Gun Held Up Fashionable Jewelry Shop—Loot may reach Hundreds of Thousands.

Gloucester, Mass., July 6 (AP)—Five thugs, dressed in summer sports costumes and armed with a machine gun, today held up and robbed the Hodgson Kennard and Company jewelry shop of jewelry which a preliminary estimate indicated may reach several hundred thousand dollars in value.

The robbers drove up to the shop, located in the fashionable Magnolia section, in two cars. All five entered the shop. While the man carrying the machine gun menaced employees, the other four bandits, armed with pistols, tapped their mouths and bound them with cords.

The thugs quickly gathered up jewelry and precious stones from the safe and show cases and raced away in the two automobiles.

Because of their costumes, white flannels and other sports toggery, employees of the shop at first mistook the five for local summer residents.

Early estimates placed the value of the jewelry at about $100,000.

The robbers fled towards Beverly. Boston police were warned and immediately began watching all roads.

At the same time Gloucester police announced two boats left the Gloucester harbor. Boston harbor police were notified to watch for a steam yacht and sailing vessel.

Paralysis Warning

Washington, July 6 (AP)—Although the danger of paralysis was described as "numerically slight," Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming warned the public today that "no where in the United States is there freedom from danger of infantile paralysis infection during the summer months."

Marie Smedes Paid FINE IN WEBBER'S COURT

Marie Smedes, 35, of Kingston was committed to the Ulster county jail Thursday night, having been arrested by Trooper Reilly and Deputy Sheriff McCullough on a charge of disorderly conduct, preferred by the proprietor of the Old Homestead on the Salterville road, Edward Barton of Kingston.

She was brought to jail to serve a sentence of 30 days imposed by Justice Webber, the charge being contempt of court, the officer stating that he was ordered to the time of the arrest of the Smedes woman on a warrant.

Both were taken before Judge Webber today and released after paying fines of $20. Barton's sentence for contempt having been reduced to one day.

Longshoremen Declare They Will Not Retreat From The Waterfront

Announce They Will Continue Strike and Expect To Obtain Plenty of Help From All the Other Unions.

POLICE SHOOT

Volleys From the Police Guns Shoot Down 34 Persons, at Least Two Fatally Wounded.

San Francisco, July 6 (AP)—Bayonets bristled about San Francisco's blood-stained waterfront today.

Two thousand National Guardsmen patrolled the area where 34 persons were shot down, at least two of them fatally wounded, by police gun fire yesterday. Scores were gassed, beaten and trampled.

The soldiers occupied the battleground of the Pacific coast maritime strike during the night. Embattled strikers huddled silently around picket fires and nursed wounds of yesterday's bloody riots.

"We are not going to retreat from the waterfront," declared Ralph Mallen, of the International Longshoremen's Association publicity committee. "We are going ahead and expect to obtain plenty of help from all other unions toward a general strike."

The National Guardsmen were specifically ordered by California's acting governor, Frank F. Merriam, to protect life and property and maintain order along the 5 1/2-mile waterfront. They were under orders, issued by Adjutant General Seth E. Howard, to do no shooting "until there is evidence of an attack upon your or upon state property."

Two Fatally Wounded

Howard Sperry, 49, a striking longshoreman, and George Counourakis, 45, identified as a member of the Cooks and Waiters Union and reported to be connected with the International Labor Defense League, died from bullet wounds.

Mrs. Josephine Fuentes was struck in the head by a bullet while riding through the strike zone in a street car. A number of other non-combatants were among the injured.

From Rincon Hill, where the whine of bullets gave the first war note, the fighting swept down the waterfront streets to the International Longshoremen's Association headquarters and to Stuart and Market streets. It was at this street intersection that a bomb exploded during a preparedness day parade in 1916, killing 10 persons and wounding 40 others.

Calls Out Troops

Acting Governor Merriam's formal order calling out the state troops came while the rioting was at its height and the casualty toll steadily mounting before withering volleys from police guns, as the fighting raged from the ferry building south and spread into the adjoining industrial section.

To most savage battle of the day was fought around the I. L. A. headquarters. It was in this fight that the two men were killed and most of the injuries were suffered.

From local Labor headquarters to which strikers retreated in the fighting which began across the Embarcadero from the piers, a man staggered carrying a wounded companion, blood-spattered and stripped to the waist. Other wounded men inside, the man reported, could not be reached because of tear gas bombs which police had tossed through the windows. Others less seriously wounded were carried away by companions.

The movement of the troops to replace the 700 policemen who waged the battle for "law and order" yesterday, marks the first time National Guardsmen have been called to duty in San Francisco since the earthquake-fire disaster in 1906.

In addition to the guardsmen already on duty, another 1,000 troops were notified to hold themselves in readiness for mobilization.

Special Session Will Be Broadened

Update County Government Reform, Congressional Reapportionment and Government Mortgage Relief Will Be Taken Up.

Albany, N. Y., July 6 (AP).—The controversial questions of update county government reform and congressional reapportionment will be brought before the special session of the legislature which convenes next Tuesday, Governor Lehman has revealed.

The session was called primarily at the request of the New York city charter revision commission to open the way for consideration of the five counties in New York city. It was also known from the beginning that the session would be opened to the guaranteed mortgage relief question Governor Lehman's announcement that the session would be broadened made it certain the lawmakers will be in Albany several weeks. The approaching fall elections will make the session much more troublesome than they were in the past regular session. At that time they developed into bitter fights.

The governor will discuss over the air tonight the questions he will bring before the legislature.

Another matter to come up at special session is the demand for added appropriations for state aid to schools.

The governor will speak over a state-wide hook-up between 4 and 6:45 p. m. eastern standard time.

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENS

Standing at Wall and Nassau streets, my imagination went back to 146 years ago. The scene structure, once the United States embassy, now the passport office, changed to a much different building—the city hall of Colonial times, which was also the capitol of the province of New York. The burning crowds of bankers, brokers, politicians, messengers, runners, telegraph operators, typists, filing clerks, traders, millionaires and down and outers changed to those who had witnessed the birth of liberty. The hurrying ceased and Colonials massed in front of the city hall. Then the War statue of George Washington changed from bronze to flesh and blood. On a platform were the members of the first congress of the United States of America. With them were generals who had fought under Washington. Beside Washington stood Robert H. Livingston, chancellor of the state of New York and grand master of the Masons. Heads were bared and there was a great stillness. Chancellor Livingston was about to administer the inaugural oath to the first President of the United States.

Instead of administering the oath, Chancellor Livingston turned to Gen. Jacob Morton, marshal of the day. There was a whispered conference at the conclusion of which General Morton hurried away while the crowd wondered. From the platform, General Morton sped to the Old Coffee house at Wall and Water streets, the meeting place of St. John's lodge of Masons of which he was master. He was gone only a few moments. When he returned, he was carrying a large Bible resting on a cushion of crimson velvet. He had taken that Bible from the altar of St. John's lodge. Then it became known to those on the platform at least that while other details had been attended to carefully the matter of a Bible for administering the oath had been overlooked.

Washington, according to Ossian Lang's "History of Free Masonry in the state of New York," placed his hand upon the page containing the forty-ninth chapter of Genesis from verse 13 until the end, more particularly Jacob's blessing of Joseph, "the prince among the brethren." Following the administration of the oath, Washington kissed the book reverently. There was another moment of silence. "It is done," cried out Chancellor Livingston. Then waving his hand, he exclaimed with a joyous shout, "Long live George Washington." A great cheer arose. The Republic was at its beginning. "Move on," said a voice in my ear, "you're blocking traffic." And I smiled at the statue looking down benignly on the passing throngs. What a difference 145 years have made!

The Bible on which the hand of Washington rested and which he kissed on that historic day is still in existence and is still the property of the lodge that owned it at the time. With the spell of the past still on me, I'd have liked to see it. But that was impossible. So precious is the relic that it is kept under lock and key except when used in lodge work, and is permitted to leave the lodge only on unanimous vote of the members. Then it must be accompanied by a committee of five, three of which must be past masters of the lodge. The historic pages are covered with transparent silk. The Bible was presented to the lodge by Jonathan Hampton, November 28, 1775, the night on which he was installed as master.

Skipping over 145 years, there is that old four-story brick house at 20 Cherry street. Recently it was condemned as a fire trap and is to be razed. In the Revolution, it was used as a billet by some of George Washington's officers.

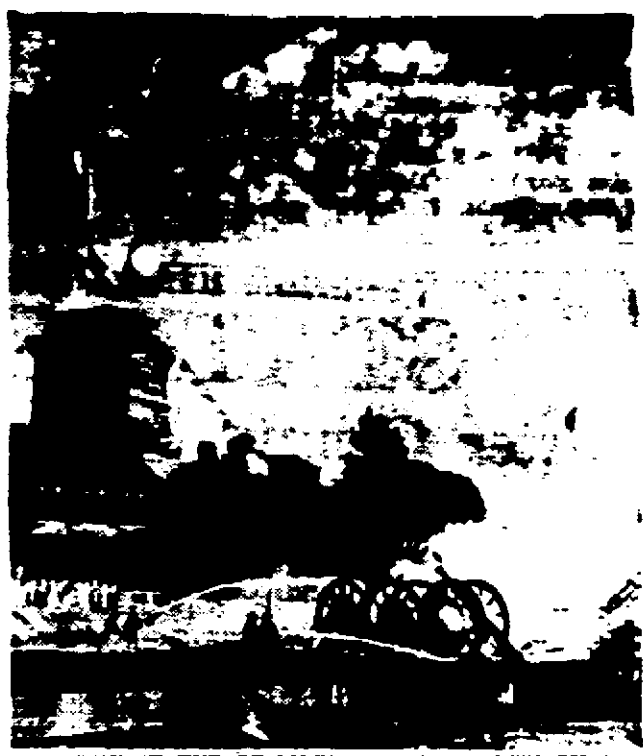

Recently, a young woman wrote asking about the chances of getting her song published. The head of the largest firm in the country told me that the chances are remote since established song writers are having difficulty in getting their works produced. The state of the song business, he added, is reflected by "Smoke Gets Into Your Eyes," the hit number of "Roberta." Despite its popularity, the sales have not reached 100,000 copies. In the old days, they would have been well over a million.

Joy Returns As 4-H Club Director

Had Been in Washington Since October Last Having Been Awarded a National 4-H Club Fellowship.

Barnard D. Joy returned from Washington, D. C., first of the week and has resumed the reins as director of 4-H Club activities in Ulster county after an absence of nine months. Miss Margaret Lattimer, who has been acting 4-H Club agent during Mr. Joy's absence, is spending a vacation at her home in Vivian, South Dakota. She will return to New York state August 1 and will have a position as 4-H Club agent-at-large, with headquarters in Ithaca. Mr. Joy this morning expressed himself as very much pleased with the condition in which he found 4-H affairs in the county under the efficient management of Miss Lattimer.

Mr. Joy went to Washington last October, having been awarded a National 4-H Club Fellowship, taking work in the University of Maryland and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. He completed the work in June, receiving his degree of Master of Arts in Agricultural Education from the University of Maryland. Mrs. Joy returned from Washington some time since and is now at their home here with their little daughter, Ruth DeJean.

Mr. Joy was one of the speakers at the conference of state 4-H Club leaders held at the National 4-H Club camp at Washington, D. C., June 14 to 20 and spoke for an hour on the subject, "Re-enrolling 4-H Club Members," a discussion of ways and means for holding club membership.

The address stressed three main points: Recognize and use the natural social groupings of rural young people.

More care and attention to detail in preliminary organization work, particularly with reference to securing cooperation of parents and the community.

Approach 4-H Club problems with the idea of developing individual members along lines to which they are particularly suited.

Work Relief Turned Down.
Norwich, N. Y., July 6 (AP).—Work relief as a policy for this city has been turned down by the voters, three to one. In a special election yesterday the voters approved the action of the common council, which on May 3 decided to discontinue work relief under the state TERA.

State Senator Westall Asks Investigation of Himself As Legislator

Declines To Comment on What Attitude Such Investigation of Himself Might Have on His Plans Toward Re-election.

WRITES LETTER

Would Furnish Newspaper Articles and Names of Those Who Should be Compelled to Testify.

White Plains, N. Y., July 6 (AP)—State Senator Walter W. Westall of White Plains, who was denied a re-nomination last month by his party organization because of his attitude on the public utility issue, today demanded of the newly formed legislative utilities investigation committee "an early, complete and thorough investigation" of himself as a legislator for 16 years.

The request by the Westchester senator, who has not yet announced whether he will contest the Republican organization choice of Supervisor Pliny W. Williamson of Scarsdale for his post, was made by letter to his colleague in the Upper House, Senator John J. Dunnigan, chairman of the utilities investigation committee.

At the same time Senator Westall demanded that because of "innuendoes and insinuations in the press" and because "a certain few individuals have made careless statements both privately and publicly," those persons also be subpoenaed. He offered to furnish the committee copies of newspaper articles to which he referred as well as a list of those persons he thought should be subpoenaed.

Senator Westall declined to comment on what attitude such investigation of himself might have on his plans toward re-election but said he would have a statement on this point at some later time.

Letter to Senator Dunnigan.

His letter to Senator Dunnigan, copies of which were sent to all newspapers in Westchester county, in New York city and to up-state points where he formerly lived or has been well known, follows in full:

"I understand from the press that the committee organized pursuant to resolution passed at the last session of the legislature to investigate utilities and other activities will shortly start its investigation.

"There have been from time to time innumerable and insinuations in the press and a certain few individuals have made careless statements both privately and publicly as to my activities in the legislature. I believe these matters should be thoroughly investigated and the result of such investigation should be given the widest publicity so that the public will know the whole truth.

"The resolution as amended by the Republicans in the Senate has very broad powers and under its provisions the activities of every legislator during his entire career are matters coming under its jurisdiction. I gladly voted for the resolution and I respectfully request an early, complete and thorough investigation of any and all of my acts during the 16 years that I have had the honor of serving the county of Westchester in the legislature.

"I also suggest that the press and the people making these statements be subpoenaed and compelled to testify as to any information which they might have concerning such activities.

"I will be available at all times, convenient to your honorable body, and will cooperate with your committee to the best of my ability.

WILL FURNISH ARTICLES.

"I will be glad to furnish you with newspaper articles and the names of those who should be compelled to testify.

With the 12 members of the investigation committee, six Democrats and six Republicans, all personally friendly to Senator Westall through association in Albany, it is believed here today they will accede to his request and make the probe he demands as soon as the committee begins its sessions. This point, however, may rest with the newly selected counsel of the committee, former Supreme Court Justice John E. Mack of Poughkeepsie.

Downie Bros.' Circus To Play Here July 21

Fred C. Kilgore, contracting agent of the Downie Bros. Circus, is in the city today—making preliminary arrangements for the big show under the Charles Sparks management to appear here. The date for the circus was announced as Saturday, July 21.

Mr. Kilgore announced that the circus this year is featuring the personal appearance of Jack Horie, famous western screen star, in addition to many of the foremost names of the spangled world. The advertising cars of the circus will arrive shortly with their array of brilliantly colored posters to announce the glad tidings to the youngsters who when a circus is concerned range in age from six to sixty.

HOLLYWOOD STARS ENGAGE IN A SEASHORE
COMBAT WITHOUT LANCES: Allyn Drake and Charles Sabin (left) team up to oppose Ward Bond and Billie Seward in a "beach jousting" contest, the latest sport of Filmdom's visitors to Balboa Beach, Cal.

(Copyright 1934, Wide World Photos, Inc.)

HOLLYWOOD
IN PERSONby
Mollie MerrickCopyright, 1934, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.Hollywood, Calif., July 5.—The "Telephonics" are very active again
after a period of quiet.

In case you don't know who the "Telephonics" are, I may as well tell you they are a tribe, indigenous to Hollywood, who obtain in one way or another the private and unlisted telephone numbers of film folk and sell the net results for a healthy sum to solicitors of various types who can profit by the knowledge.

It has taken, in the past, about two months for the "Telephonics" to obtain a star's private number from the time of its issuance. Therefore, such stars as Norma Shearer, Ramon Novarro, Greta Garbo, W. C. Fields,
Ann Harding, Marlene Dietrich, Gary
Cooper, Claudette Colbert, Dolores Del Rio, Katharine Hepburn and others of their magnitude have had to change numbers every six days.
But, of late, the "Telephonics" have speeded up their work and start have discovered to their horror that newly issued numbers are available to all sorts of business houses almost at issuance.

When Claudette Colbert announced that her mother was contemplating a trip to Europe, imagine her horror upon discovering that her new private number was known to any amount of travel bureaus, insurance companies, luggage manufacturers who rang her bedside phone at all hours of the night, peddling their wares.

When you see a Hollywood star frenziedly standing before a phone, muttering wildly to himself, you know that he has lost the slip on which he has hastily scrawled his latest number. And not for love or money will the phone company give it to him. Then, his only recourse is to send a telegram to his home asking them to ring him wherever he is and give him the new number.

Leslie Howard had a new telephone number for each month of his recent stay in Hollywood due to activities of the "telephonics."

Cecil De Mille recently dismissed a man because he "yessed" him too much. The man insisted on a reason for his dismissal and "Seabee" told him frankly. The irate employe obtained De Mille's private number from the "telephonics" and called the producer two or three times nightly as a unique revenge, merely shouting "No, Mr. De Mille," when he heard the producer's sleepy voice.

Our other difficulty lies with the terminals. We have trained groups of men who guarantee to check this invasion but, so far, the "telephonics" have gone unscathed. Now, at the first of each month, a star gets a new number with his telephone bill. It generally renders him immune from pests for a couple of weeks, seldom longer.

When young Walter Brooks, III, phoned Lionel Barrymore at the ho-pital where the actor is taking a rest cure the other day, he said, "Congratulate me, Mr. Barrymore, I've got a job in pictures."

Barrymore congratulated him and asked him what it was.

"I play the part of Bob in the Return of Chandu" with Bela Lugosi and I get seventy-five dollars a week," said the grandson of Mrs.
Edward Stotesbury, with great pride.

"That's a good salary," said Barrymore. "My first salary in the theater was a pound a week."
Barrymore, who began his theatrical career thus modestly, was forced to refuse three thousand dol-

George Eckert, of the C. C. C. Camp at Boiceville, spent the week-end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Wynkoop. Also on July 4,
Ken with his friend, Mr. Sprall, of Schenectady, who is at the C. C. C.
Camp, spent the day at Lake Mohonk and with his parents here.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rodgers of New York city are visiting his parents here.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Wynkoop, William Terwilliger of this place and Mrs. Lester Wynkoop of Pataukunk made a call at Kingston one day last week.

There are a number of city people at the Osborn House, also at the Mountain View House.

MARLBOROUGH

Marlborough, July 6.—Rita Manton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Manton, was one of the students who graduated from the eighth grade of the Casa San Jose, Mt. St. Mary's Newburgh. Last Saturday the graduates were given a picnic in Newburgh at the home of Mrs. Tierney, Miss Manton's grandmother.

Mrs. Samuel Scilla returned to her home the first of the week. She has been in New York city several weeks where she underwent an operation.
William Haviland, attended the Farm Bureau meeting held in Kingston Tuesday evening.

Arthur Warren spent the holiday visiting at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mildred Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bond and son of Jersey City spent the Fourth with
Mrs. Bond's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
O. Perkins.

Mrs. Cecelia Walsh of New York spent the week-end with her nephew,
John Downer.

Callers on Mr. and Mrs. Frank De-
George on Monday were Mr. De-George's brother from New York city.

The storm on Tuesday evening caused the residents of this place to go to bed in the dark. A large tree in the schoolyard fell across the road blocking traffic and taking telephone poles with it. Also down at the Marlborough Garage another limb broke several wires. Crews from the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company of Newburgh worked all night repairing the damage.

Mrs. John Conn, Jr. and children are visiting relatives in West New York.

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Spoto of Tampa, Florida, who have been visiting at the home of their uncle, Thomas Greco, returned to their home today. Mrs. Greco and son, Kenneth, returned with them for a visit.

Many Marlborough persons were at Orange Lake Wednesday evening and witnessed the large display of fireworks.

Mrs. E. J. Bennett is visiting at the home of Mrs. Bedell of Walden.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kniffen entertained friends from out-of-town over the Fourth.

Miss Elizabeth Allen of Poughkeepsie was a caller in town on Sunday.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. John Cooney entertained several out-of-town guests.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Beer Capacity

New York—James Liebman, president of the New York State Brewers' Association, estimated that the average adult resident of the state consumed two-thirds of a barrel of beer during the past twelve months. Total sales were 6,203,000 barrels. These weighed 300,000 tons and upheld New York's reputation for beer drinking, for they represented 16.3 per cent of the nation's beer consumption.

Jimmy Speaks For Self

New York—James Wallington wasn't exactly announcing, but his talk was a success. The traffic light turned red without warning and he had no opportunity to stop his automobile, hence the summons, the radio announcer told the court. The judge suspended sentence.

Take Him Home, Too?

Atlanta—If Willard Grubbs, 19, had to have an accident he couldn't have picked a better time and place. Willard's motorcycle struck a parked automobile as two physicians were passing. They pulled him from the wreckage, found he had a broken leg, stripped off their coats and set the fracture. An automobile running board was the operating table.

Twins Two Days Apart

Macon, Ga.—Mrs. J. W. McDaniel is the mother of twins whose birth days are two days apart. The first child, a girl, was born Tuesday and the second, a boy, was born Thursday. The babies and Mrs. McDaniel are doing fine.

Too Ambitious

Oklahoma City—Herman Charles Shockley, a janitor at the state capitol and an unsuccessful candidate for lieutenant governor of Oklahoma, has been discharged by the state board of affairs.

The board gave no reason. Shockley said he ran for office against its wishes.

Call When Tenant's Out

Yellowstone Park, Wyo.—Exploring grizzly bear dens is a new adventure for visitors to Yellowstone National Park. The grizzlies have left their dens, using them only as a winter residence.

Frank Oberhansley, ranger and naturalist, found that one, hidden deep in the side of a cliff, is 12 feet square and 9 feet high. A depression in the floor had been carefully lined with pine, fir twigs and sticks.

NEW HURLEY.

New Hurley, July 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Gerow Wilkin and son, James, and Peter Wilkin and son, Crosby, were dinner guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elbridge Gerow.

Mrs. Kathryn VanWyck spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Van Wyck.

Mrs. N. T. Cocks and daughter, Harriet, of New York are spending the summer at their home in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Geerlings have been spending a few days at the parsonage before leaving for Michigan where they will spend the summer with Mr. Geerling's parents. On their return they will move to Port Jefferson, L. I., where Mr. Geerling has accepted a position as teacher.

The following were sent from here as delegates to the Christian Endeavor convention at Newburgh last week: Crosby Wilkin, Marlon Mackey, Marjorie Schoonmaker and Bertha Sutton.

Mr. and Mrs. William DePew are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a son born last Wednesday. He has been named William, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Garrison and sons, and Mr. and Mrs. Frances Garrison attended the wedding of Ethel Dunn and George Alsdorf at the bride's home at St. Andrews last Saturday afternoon.

There will be no preaching services, Sunday School or Christian Endeavor in the church here until Sunday morning, July 22, when the pastor, the Rev. Vernon O. Nagel will return from his vacation and have charge of the services.

The annual fair under the auspices of the Young Woman's Club will be held on the church grounds on Wednesday evening, July 11, instead of July 15 as was previously announced.

The following committees will have charge of the various booths: Supper, Lulu Birch, Beatrice Everett, Dagmar Nelson, Jeanette VanArendonk, Bertha Nelson, Margaret Deniston, Vira Van Kleeck and Ethel Jenkins; ice cream and candy: Catherine Schoonmaker, Nellie Thorne, Beulah Thompson, Althea Hotelling, Jane Thompson, Mildred Rugar, Marjorie Schoonmaker; fancy articles: Florence VanWyck, Kathryn Schofield, Carrie Fowler, Rheta Sieberling; drinks: Svea Zimmer, Myrtle Fries, Bertha Powell, Bertha Sutton, Helen Garrison, Ethel Alsdorf; miscellaneous: Helen Wilkin, Dorothy Denniston; music: Catherine Schoonmaker and Vira Van Kleeck. A cafeteria supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock and continue until all are served. The menu will be as follows: Virginia baked ham, meat loaf, potato salad, spaghetti and cheese, baked beans, peas, brown bread, pineapple and banana salad, cottage cheese, pie, cake, coffee, iced tea and milk. The Montgomery band will furnish music during the evening. Everyone is asked to keep this date in mind and to come and bring friends. Proceeds will benefit the church.

The Missionary Society will meet at the home of Mrs. C. Edward Thorne on Thursday afternoon, July 12 at 2:30 o'clock. Subject, China. Leader, Mrs. J. W. Monnell. Bible word, pity.

Moral Turpitude

Moral turpitude is an act of baseness, villainy or depravity in the private and social duties which a man owes to his fellow man, or to society in general, contrary to the accepted and customary rule of right and duty between man and man.

Washington's Social Program Closes On Properly Formal Note

By JEAN JARVIS
Special Correspondent of The Freeman

Copyright, 1934

Washington, July 5.—With the President and his two younger sons, Franklin D. Jr. and John, off on the first of their ambitious marriage tour, the social program of the White House has closed on a rather formal note.

The White House has closed a season of social events with a series of formal dinners and receptions. It was the arrival of the President-elect of Colombia, Dr. Don Lorenzo de la Cruz, which served to bring to a close the social season at the White House. While President Roosevelt, just returned from his trip to New England and New York, stood as host to a notable company of officials and diplomats. The advent of the Colombians served to give the social program a final flourish. The women quite unexpectedly coming into the picture because of the presence of both Senora De Lopez and her young daughter, Senora Maria Lopez. Unhappily, Senora Maria Lopez, who arrived with her mother, was unfortunately killed in a car accident on the way to the White House. A man's party, luncheon given for President-elect Lopez and the members of his company, brought together a distinguished group of the Pan-American Union, with Secretary of State Hull presiding.

At the large dinner company arranged by the Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Sumner Wells and given at their Maryland country estate, Oxon Hill, both men and women were in the group which had the Colombian president-elect and Senora De Lopez as chief guests.

Senora De Lopez and her daughter were with Mrs. Hull at the informal tea hour at her apartment at the Carlton, while the minister of Colombia and Senora De Lozano's dinner at the legation had the distinguished Colombians as principal guests. Altogether, during their brief stay in Washington, the Latin American group was accorded a typically cordial Washington welcome.

The latest distinguished departure concerned Mrs. Harold L. Ickes, off for a rather prolonged visit to Mexico. She will return for a short stay in Washington before settling off early in August for her customary sojourn in New Mexico.

Our Growing Population.

The following births have been reported to the board of health:

Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Coppola of Locust avenue, a daughter, Yolanda Flora.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Mount of Woodstock, a son, George Bourges, at Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Meyer of Middletown, a daughter at the Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Tresoloni of 37 Hanratty street, a son, Dominic, at Benedictine Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Richards of 20 Newkirk avenue, a son at Benedictine Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Koenig of 116 Andrew street, a son, Ted Rehar, at Benedictine Hospital.

Mrs. Insull Returns

MRS. SAMUEL INSULL RETURNS TO U. S. AFTER $125 CROSSING: The wife of the former Chicago public utilities magnate, who was brought back to face trial for losses incurred in the collapse of his immense holdings, arrives in New York from Greece on the Majestic after having travelled tourist class.

Copyright 1934, Wide World Photos, Inc.

Chicago, July 6 (AP).—Mrs. Samuel Insull, the former Gladys Wallis of the stage, had returned to her husband today to "soften his hardship."

Arriving in Chicago last night after a stay of 18 months in Europe, she said in an interview at her husband's hotel suite:

"I think the most effectual women are the unselfish ones. Women's greatest matter should be to soften the hardships in life their men have to meet."

Insull, the deposed utilities czar who is facing trial on charges growing out of the collapse of his interests, was not at the station to meet her. He had been advised by a physician that the excitement might prove ill effects.

Orange County Fair On August 20 and 25

The ninety-fourth annual fair of the Orange County Agricultural Society will be held at Middletown during the week of August 20-25, six days and six nights. The program, briefly, will be as follows:

Monday—All children admitted free. Grand stand seats also free to the children. Show features are Art Young's Revue, with thirty-four people, which played the Chicago World's Fair all last year. Also interpolated numbers which include trained animals, acrobats and comedians. The show will be repeated at night with added features.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday—Harness racing with a list of entries which includes many well-known stars of the turf. Grand stand show nightly.

Friday—B. Ward Beam's Famous Congress of Daredevils with thrills and spills—motorcycle races, ascan derby, featuring all the cars which are now being entered with a value under fifty dollars.

Saturday—Automobile races, under AAA sanction, and put on by that great auto racing impresario Captain Ralph A. Hankinson, owner and operator of the famous Langhorne Speedway.

The fair grounds will be completely changed so far as the lay-out is concerned. There will be an attractive auto show and many exhibits in all agricultural departments. One of the largest of these will be by the Four-H Club boys and girls, many of whom have been planning for their displays throughout the past year. The fair will pay out more than $7,000 in prizes for agricultural displays.

YOUTH CONGRESS THEME FOR SESSION CHOSEN.

"For Such a Time as This" was the theme selected by the Youth Council on Tuesday evening for its third annual youth congress which is to be at the Y. M. C. A. Camp at Glenelg, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, September 14, 15 and 16. The registration fee was also cut. This is the second time in as many years that the local council has been able to cut its registration fee.

The theme is taken from the Book of Esther, chapter 1, verse 14: "Thou knowest but thou art come into the kingdom—for such a time as this." Speakers, discussion groups are to be developed around this theme, and an attempt made to show the probable usefulness of youth in "such a time as this."

Roger Mable is chairman of the congress committee; assisting him is Wilson Tinner. Registrar is Miss Marion Coutant, assisted by the treasurer, Miss Hermine Lawatsch. Kimbol Pirie will have charge of arrangements at camp; Wallace Buley of recreation and Henry S. Van Der Zee in charge of worship programs. Other committees will be appointed soon.

Ranks of Nobility

In a coat of arms, rank is indicated by the coronet, a peculiar form of which exists for every rank of nobility. Helmets also indicate rank, since particular forms were assigned to the various grades of the greater and lesser nobility.

A Barrel of Wheat
The Department of Agriculture says that the United States has made a record in the production of wheat. It has produced 250,000,000 bushels of wheat in 1933. How much more it will produce in 1934 is not yet known. It is largely dependent on the weather and the state of the various crops.

135,500 DEATHS

Annually, in these United States, 135,500 people die from insect-borne diseases. Unbelievable, but true—filth laden, germ carrying insects cause more deaths than homicide—homicide—traffic—and all other accidents combined.

WHAT IS THE ANSWER

Filth are the filthiest things that live. Do not allow them to carry filth and germs into your home. Insects are your family's most dangerous enemies. Mosquitoes inject a poisonous fluid into the blood before they can draw it into their bodies. That causes the swelling and spreads disease.

There is only one FLY-TOX. Insist on the genuine.

THROUGH A Woman's Eyes

By JEAN NEWTON

"A MIND THAT NOTHING CAN IRRITATE"

"HE IS a man of rare equanimity. His achievements were possible only to a mind that nothing could irritate."

We find that in the biography of a great man, incidentally it points out the source of a tremendous waste of which men and women are the victims.

It is the waste of health and strength and mentality and the abilities because of the lack of that quality of equanimity.

I think women suffer much more from the frustration caused by that kind of waste than men, for women are far more vulnerable to the irritations, as we can personally the many annoyances of every day, the innumerable ways in which we can allow ourselves to be distracted, if we will, from the big points of view.

Equanimity: A grain of it is worth large quantities of some of the other ingredients of success or happiness. For without it a large part of those ingredients is burnt up. With it almost second-rate material can frequently be transmuted into something worthwhile. It occurs to me that that quality of poise and calm which we call equanimity acts on our abilities as the gastric juices act on food. It makes most of them. Without it they are squandered.

That is why many women with fine abilities—whether they happen to be in creating happiness in the home, making most of their children, or writing books or painting pictures—make nothing of their possibilities. They allow the little snags and hitches of every day life to thwart them. Momentary annoyances in the details of living irritate them and throw them off their main track.

It is far from easy, of course, to live always in the light of a true sense of values, to see the irritations always in perspective, and therefore in their true unimportance—to keep the important part of ourselves where nothing can irritate it. It is far from easy. But it is the secret of much in accomplishment, happiness, really living.

Concealing Color Helps

Animals Protect Selves
Concealing coloration in animals plays an important part in protecting them from their predatory enemies. In a like manner concealing coloration in the predators themselves materially assists them in their successful forage for food, observes a writer in the Detroit News.

It is not often that this "landscape blending" quality asserts itself in dogs, but in the Chesapeake bay retriever we have an animal difficult to see when it roams its hunting habitat, the marshes and seige lands where wildfowl congregate.

In fact the dead grass color, accepted as the standard for this breed, blends so well with the reeds, cattails, marsh grass and canebreaks that much of its success in hunting and retrieving wildfowl can be laid to this source.

Among duck hunters the Chesapeake bay retriever is their favorite breed for all around purposes. It stands unequalled as a retriever and seldom loses a crippled bird.

It is willing to work under all weather conditions, taking to the water on instant command. There is no other working dog that can stand up under cold winds and icy water as well as this. Its deep, wooly undercoat is as waterproof as a duck's breast and, like the latter, it is built to revel in a water environment that would turn other dogs back.

Like most hunting dogs, the Chesapeake is seldom considered in the pet or household dog class. Yet it would adapt itself to such conditions, although it is far happier out in the open.

Knocking on Wood Wards

Off Evil, an Old Belief

Knocking on wood to ward off punishment for boasting is one of the most prevalent of all superstitions, says the Indianapolis News. It is not uncommon to meet persons who knock on wood after bragging about their success or good health. Many persons carry wooden charms convenient for this purpose. How wood acquired this supposed protective power is not definitely known. Many theories have been offered to account for the superstition. Some are due to the old game known as "touching wood" or "wood tag" in which a player who succeeds in touching wood is safe from capture. Others believe this game and "knocking on wood" had a common origin in primitive tree worship, when trees were believed to harbor protective spirits. To rap on a tree, the dwelling place of a friendly spirit, was to call up the spirit to protect one against impending misfortune. Later, people placed the hand on a wooden statue of a deity for the same purpose. It is said that some European peasants knock loudly on wood to keep away evil spirits. It is believed by some people that the superstition is of Christian origin, and that it is in some way associated with the wooden cross upon which Jesus was crucified, or that it arose from the ancient rite of touching the beads of a rosary in prayer.

PARIS GLORIFIES THE SUMMER

Glamorous Gowns And Flirtatious Hats Command The Fashion Scene

Paris has outdone itself this season. Gowns are glamorous, hats are daring and brilliant colors are detracting attention from the polo games, the races and the garden parties. Here, for example, is a beige, brown and green costume seen at the polo at Bagatelle, showoff place for summer modes. The hat is crush-crowned beige felt with a brown band. The scarf is of beige, brown and green taffeta, while gloves are beige net.

President Roosevelt At Puerto Rico Today

Washington, July 6 (AP).—President Roosevelt's cruise carried him today to Puerto Rico, storied land where centuries meet.

Once a playground of pirates, the tiny island has suffered from cruel whims of nature in recent years. Spanish conquerors called it Puerto Rico, Rich Port, but two hurricanes since 1928 have made it poor and dependent largely on relief funds from the United States.

Columbus trod its soil—the only land now under the Stars and Stripes that can boast that distinction.

It became an American territory almost by chance as a result of the Spanish-American War.

Puerto Rico was discovered by Columbus in 1493, and colonized in 1508 by Juan Ponce De Leon—who spent his life seeking the fountain of youth. Police De Leon founded San Juan, where he is buried in the massive San Juan Bautista Cathedral.

The object of centuries of attack and pillage by pirates and colonial navies, San Juan even today is protected from the sea by a half dozen gigantic fortresses.

Mountainous and only 100 miles long by 35 miles wide, Puerto Rico has 1,600,000 inhabitants. It is thus the most densely populated island area under the United States flag.

The island's governor, Blanton H. Winship, has spent most of the summer in Washington with Puerto Rican officials working out an agricultural rehabilitation plan.

The island lies about 500 miles east of Cuba, and just west of the Virgin Islands.

"BRONX MURDER SYNDICATE" HAS NOW PAID IN FULL

Ossining, N. Y., July 6 (AP).—The "Bronx Murder Syndicate" had paid in full today for the death of "Durable Mike" Malloy.

Joseph Murphy, 27, walked calmly to the Sing Sing Death House last night, looked on silently, with mild curiosity as he was strapped into the electric chair at 10:03 p. m. Eastern Standard Time. He was pronounced dead three minutes later.

Murphy's three accomplices, Frank Pasqua, Anthony Marino and Daniel Kreisberg, were executed June 7. Two reprieves were granted Murphy to permit mental examinations, but he was adjudged sane.

The four men finally accomplished the insurance murder of Malloy with gas after the speakeasy derelict survived poison liquor, the wheels of an automobile and tainted goods mixed with ground tin.

Carl Church Given Term in Prison

Jefferson, Wis., July 6 (AP).—A swift stroke of justice had Carl Church, 36-year-old insurance painter, in a Wisconsin state prison cell today under life sentence for the murder of Earl B. Gentry.

"I don't think it wrong to kill a rat," Church said yesterday as he was sentenced by Circuit Judge George Grimm, two hours after he pleaded guilty in justice court.

He was started to prison without delay within 18 hours of his capture at nearby Fort Atkinson.

Church said he killed Gentry because the one-time bodyguard of D. C. Stephenson, imprisoned grand dragon of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan, abused Mrs. Carrie D. Gill, Jefferson's "Sunshine Lady," and because Mrs. Gill had been kind to him while he was sick.

The "Sunshine Lady," so called because of charitable acts, pleaded innocence to a charge of first degree murder growing out of Gentry's death. Gentry was found shot to death Sunday in his automobile parked near the Gill residence, where he made his home.

With her brother, Ferdinand Probst, Mrs. Gill awaited a preliminary hearing next Wednesday. Ferdinand arraigned on a charge of being an accessory after the fact of murder, also pleaded innocence.

Kingston: "The Thin Man." A national best seller not many months ago, Dashiell Hammett's "Thin Man" has been made into an entertaining, enjoyable and brusque talkie, a movie that follows the book carefully although a few of the lines have been omitted for censorship reasons. Anyway, this mystery drama is one of the best of the lot, mainly because the screen characters are faithful to the original of Mr. Hammett's creation. It is a rowdy, lusty show in parts, and several of the characters are not models of etiquette, but it is brisk, exciting entertainment all the way through. Nick Charles, detective and heavy drinker, comes to New York for a rest and some fancy drinking along with his wife. While there, against his wishes, he becomes enmeshed in a murder mystery, and in a half-hearted but alert manner, he solves the mystery and brings the guilty to justice. Myrna Loy, William Powell, Nat Pendleton and Minna Gombell are in the cast. Swell entertainment.

Orpheum: "Advice to the Lovelorn" and "Fog". Lee Tracy, along with Sally Blane and a capable cast, plays the role of a newspaper love commentator in this humorous and sparkling comedy drama that takes the audience behind the scenes of the heart balm columnists. "Fog" is a well done mystery thriller with Reginald Denny, Mary Brian and Donald Cook.

Broadway: "Private Scandal" and "Fighting to Live". Lew Cody, Ned Sparks, Phillips Holmes, Zasu Pitts and Mary Brian are featured in the first feature, a murder mystery wherein most of the alibis are faked, and the guilty is brought to justice only after a battle of wits. "Fighting to Live" is a dog story, and the cast is featured by Captain and Lady, two capable canine actors.

whose millions financed wars on the continent, and whose Jewish blood brought endless persecution. The greatest banking power in history, five sons of Rothschild swear to their dying father that they will work hand in hand. No brother is to fail if any of the others is successful. So these five brothers spread their banking power throughout the capitals of Europe, and become both powerful and feared. George Arliss, as Nathan, establishes a great banking firm in England, aids in toppling Napoleon from his throne, finances wars, and under the press of anti-semitic feeling, he stakes all his financial resources on the outcome of Waterloo. The story is an impressive historical document, vivid, exciting and powerful in its treatment. George Arliss shines above a distinguished cast of supporting players and comes near to giving his finest screen characterization. Others in the play include Loretta Young, Boris Karloff, Robert Young, Helen Westly and C. Aubrey Smith. Four star entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Osterhoudt motored to Highland on Sunday to visit Mrs. Osterhoudt's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Church-

III, who are both ill. Her father was taken seriously ill recently.

Miss Emily Capek of New York is visiting her aunt, Mrs. V. F. Bernesser. She expects to stay all summer.

Mrs. Luella S. Marshall of Port Ewen was a guest of Mrs. F. M. Cleaveland on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schmidt of Tuckahoe, N. Y., were at "Greyrock", their summer home, at the Rip Van Winkle Club over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Bernesser made a trip to Kingston on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward C. Hummel and daughter, Margaret, and Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Osterhoudt were in Margaretville on Friday night.

The Home Bureau held its June picnic on Thursday, June 28, at Camp Hilltop on the Bushnellville road. There was a good attendance of members and visitors. A delicious luncheon was served at noon and in the afternoon at the close of the business meeting Miss Evelyn Nance, the county leader, discussed the program for the coming year. Three projects decided upon were making of household accessories, a study of civics and that of kitchen arrangement. Besides these a program for recreation was planned with Mrs. Willard Gulnick and Mrs. William Andrews as leaders. The following were those present at the meeting: Miss Evelyn Nance of Kingston, Miss Schaeffer of Cornell University, Mrs. E. M. Marshall of Port Ewen, Mrs. Robert Webster, Mrs. Willis Dunn, Mrs. Charles Owens, Mrs. Ned Kelly, Mrs. Willard Gulnick, Mrs. George Maben of Al-laben, Mrs. Harry Miller, Mrs. Ward Hummel, Mrs. F. S. Osterhoudt, Mrs. Theron Townsend, Mrs. Percy White, Mrs. Earl Holden, Mrs. F. M. Cleaveland of Shandaken, and Mrs. William Andrews of Oliveria.

Warren Wheaton of New York is spending a week in town.

Joseph Wasserman and family of New York are occupying the Fred Yeager cottage for the summer.

Mrs. Agnes Fouhy and Mrs. G. H. Gulnick, Jr., made a trip to New York on Thursday.

The following are guests at the Bernesser cottage: Mr. and Mrs. Wolf, Mr. Forster, Mr. and Mrs. Maguin and Mrs. Saffrick and son, all of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Brown have returned to Kingston again after having rented their ice cream parlor for the season.

Many Trades Vanish

A United States survey shows many trades have vanished since 1850; among them are bell hanger, coach maker and rigger.

MENU FOR TODAY

Menu For Friday, July 6

Breakfast: Stewed peaches, oatmeal with cream, browned vegetable hash, muffins, coffee.

Luncheon: Sardine salad, whole wheat sandwiches, sugared blackberries, brownies, tea.

Dinner: Clam broth, baked cod, bread dressing, baked potatoes, baked stuffed peppers, lettuce, Russian dressing, peach pie, cheese, coffee.

Browned Vegetable Hash

This also can be made with leftovers. Chopped beets, carrots, sweet potatoes, parsnips, and mashed squash and white potatoes are all good ingredients with or without a little onion. Use about as much white potatoes as all other vegetables combined. After mixing thoroughly, put into frying pan with a small piece of butter, perhaps a teaspoon. It would depend upon how much hash was made. Salt slightly and heat thoroughly.

Sardine Salad

Sixteen small sardines, 4 slices Bermuda onions, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, 8 ripe olives or stuffed olives, 2 cucumbers, 2 tablespoons horseradish, 1/2 head of lettuce. Arrange on bed of lettuce 4 sardines to each serving, 1/2 cucumber sliced, 1 slice onion. Mix horseradish with mayonnaise and olives and cover. Serves four.

Menu For Saturday, July 7

Breakfast: Orange juice, Farina with cream, tomato and cream toast, coffee.

Luncheon: Tomato bisque, creamed cauliflower, green beans, French fried potatoes, crisp rolls, lime gelatin, iced tea.

Dinner: Clear soup, pot roast, boiled carrots, parsnips, boiled potatoes, beet and lettuce salad, French dressing, apple pie, cheese, coffee.

Pot Roast

Scald 1 1/2 cups milk and add 1 tablespoon flour, mixed with cold water to form a smooth paste. Cook 20 minutes in double boiler, stirring constantly until mixture thickens, afterward occasionally. Add 2-3 cup stewed and strained tomatoes to which has been added 1/4 teaspoon soda. Add 1 tablespoon butter and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Dip 6 slices of toast separately in sauce, arrange on a platter, pour over remaining sauce, and pour over all 4 scrambled eggs.

Creamed Cauliflower

One quart skimmed or whole milk, 1/2 cup butter or meat fat, 1/2 cup flour, 1 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 quart boiled cauliflower. Melt fat and stir into flour. When these are thoroughly mixed, add cold milk and cook until flour is cooked, stirring constantly until milk boils. Mix this sauce with cauliflower and reheat if necessary.

Pot Roast

Take about 5 pounds of beef, put in kettle with some fat, and brown all over, then add water and seasoning and cook about an hour. Put carrots, onions and a small turnip and any other vegetables you care for through the meat chopper. Add to meat and cook until tender. Remove meat and thicken gravy with flour. The vegetables give meat a delicious flavor. Serve gravy over meat and potatoes on side dish. (Copyright, 1934, By The Associated Newspapers)

Smart Daytime Frock of Cool Printed Silk

Economical smartness in midsummer is, more frequently than not, arrived at by way of the little printed frock that has been tried and not found wanting when it is a question of bravely withstanding the ravages of blistering heat and sudden summer storms. This particular number is one that smart women say they can ill afford to be without when conditions force them to divide their time betwixt town and country.

The model we are showing today is typical of the new mode which is softer and more feminine than the less recent fashions in printed frocks. The broad-shouldered effect is achieved through the use of short, full sleeves, flying without restraint from the armholes. This style is a comfortable one and manages to give a finished cape-like look to the dress. At the neckline interest is concentrated in the large collar that is becomingly shaped and attached to the bodice by means of novelty buttons. The simplicity with which the skirt is made is an argument in favor of the ease with which it can be kept in condition; flares are substituted for the customary plaits without sacrifice of the material necessary to roomy comfort.

The midsummer prints that are most popular now are the two-tone ones of blue, maize, beet-root and pink on a white, or ecru background. The patterns are sparingly spaced so as not to destroy the summertime aspect of the fabric. This holds good for synthetic crepes, as well as pure-silk, and for the new linens and cottons used in frocks other than sports.

Three Point Two

By THAYER WALDO
© by The Kingston Daily Freeman, Inc.
W. N. T. Service.

THEY started up the long walk. Morris between Horowitz and Gould. Behind them, below the hill upon which the house stood, was a multi-eyed winking vista—Hollywood. Suddenly Morris halted. He stole a quick sideways glance at Gould, made a throat-clearing noise, and said: "Say, listen: maybe we oughtn't to go in on him like this without warning. Suppose he's—well, that he doesn't want visitors tonight. You know what I mean."

Gould puffed out his breath impatiently. Horowitz pointed toward the house ahead, demanding:

"Look—does a guy make private phenagings with de sheds opp end all de light on, once? Besides, who ever hold of S. J. fooling around, huh?"

"You're talking," Morris persisted, "about when his wife's here. What he'll do with her gone to Europe for six months is something else, maybe."

As they moved on, mounting ten steps to the broad veranda, Gould started with finality:

"Well, however that may be, it doesn't appear that he's cutting any didos this evening."

Just then the row of windows to their right went dark. Morris drew back as if encountering high voltage.

"There!" he gurgled. "What does that look like? Let's beat it!" Over his head Horowitz and Gould exchanged glances of amused contempt. Horowitz punched the bell button. Morris groaned slightly, muttered:

"Jeez, you birds got a crust! Why, S. J. I'll probably fire all of us for this."

An overhead lantern lit up and the door opened on a tall thin fellow in cutaway and wing collar.

"Ah, good evening, Graves," said Gould. "It Mr. Farogues at home?"

"Th—no, sir, he's not." The butler seemed ill at ease. Looking past him into the room still illumined, Gould saw a tea wagon that held bottles, glasses, and what looked like a plate of small cakes. He stepped forward, deftly crowding aside the reluctant Graves.

"Quite all right. I see you're expecting him back shortly. We'll wait. Come along, Jake—Frank."

Curiosity conquered Morris's hesitance. He sidled around to get a look inside. When he saw what Gould had seen, he muttered something, shook his head once more, then scudded behind the other two.

"Come on—let's blow," he urged; "the old boy's liable to pop in any minute now and catch us here."

"Catch us?" Gould's echo was an explosion of scorn. "Say, that's certainly rare! I thought it was rather the other way around. And I've decided not to leave. I'll stay and when he comes I'll denounce him as he deserves to be denounced. Think of his poor, trusting wife, only two days on her way and with never a suspicion that he's a moral leper!"

Horowitz, silent since their entrance, now leaned near Gould with a perceptibly gleaming eye to exclaim:

"Well, I don't know so much about his moral leper stuff, but I got it a idea: Here's our chance to pot de screws on S. J. and make sure from what he hoped he could talk him into tonight—ain't it?"

A thin smile creased the other's mouth.

"Jake, either you're smart, too, or good at mental telepathy. That's one of the chief reasons I'm staying. A man like that should be made to pay."

"Well," Morris interjected unhappily, "I think we ought to scream."

Gould put on his most impressive manner.

"Now, see here, Frank," he commenced; "we're three decently married men ourselves and—"

There were steps on the porch outside; a key scraped into the lock. Morris reached up and clutched Gould's shoulder.

"Listen!" he begged in a swift whisper. "There he comes! Let's run for it and get out the back way."

Without reply, Gould jerked free and dropped hastily into a chair, assuming a careless pose.

From the vestibule sounded chatting voices as the outer door closed. They came nearer; one masculine, one not. Two figures appeared in the archway, and stopped short. A split second of dead silence, then Gould sprang up and began loudly:

"Why, Mr. Farogues—really, I don't know what to say—I—"

The woman shrank back and in a choked voice cried:

"George!"

Body gone suddenly rigid, Gould peered strickenly through the half shadows, gasped:

"Edna! What in God's name—?"

Again one instant of utter stillness. Farogues had turned his back to them all and stood motionless, with sagging shoulders. At last from the corner came Morris's sorrowful wail:

"See, I said you should have left. I couldn't tell you it was because your wife was with him, or you'd've smashed me. But I knew it; she told me about this date when I was out with her last night, and I just remembered it when we saw the lights go out."

Unexpected Present

Doorman (to Smithers with two ladies at theater entrance)—But these are tube tickets, sir.

Smithers—Hm-m! That's why the fellow on the subway looked so pleased with what I gave him—London Historian.

Dingo Destroys Others

The dingo is the only carnivorous animal found in Australia and exists on all other warm-blooded wild life. It is the one creature that assists the natives in keeping down the imported rabbit pest, but at the same time destroys many other forms of valuable animal life.

Before Attempted Revolt

BEFORE THE ATTEMPTED REVOLT IN GERMANY: Chancellor Hitler inspects the Krupp Armsworks at Essen with Dr. Goebbels (left) and Herr Krupp von Bohlen and Hallback, just before he had started the reign of terror in which "traitorous" storm troop leaders were executed.

On The Radio Day By Day

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD.

Time in Eastern Daylight.

New York, July 6.—Rapid City, S. D., having sent along the word that the flight to the stratosphere would, if conditions are okeh, start from there next Tuesday morning, the NBC staff is spending the week-end in lining up its part of the final arrangements.

In keeping with plans previously made the chain will have a description of the takeoff, and follow that up with broadcasts at intervals as long as the balloon stays up. Included will be attempts at two-way conversations between the ground and the high fliers.

You'll want this little outfit patterned for today that all the fashionables are wearing. It does for spectator sports, for tennis, golf, camp, or for lazing around the beach. Yellow linen made this cute model illustrated. Plaided gingham, seersucker, pique, peasant cottons, gabardine, etc., will also be very smart for it.

Style No. 3009 includes pattern for shirt, shorts and skirt and is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16 and 18 years. Size 16 requires 5 yards of 39-inch material for entire outfit.

Send TEN CENTS (10¢) in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Write plainly NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE YOU WISH.

THE NEW SUMMER EDITION of our PATTERN BOOK features FASHION, BEAUTY and HEALTH.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, July 6 (AP)—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets)—The following quotations represent prices on sales by commission merchants and other original receivers on the New York city downtown wholesale district up to 4 a. m.

Big Boston lettuce values averaged a trifle higher. A large volume of business on upstate stock in crates of two dozen heads was done at 50¢-55¢. California iceberg type brought $3.00-$4.50 per crate.

Snap beans fancy tender, were slightly stronger at $1.00 per bushel hamper; was beans sold at $1.00-$1.25.

Price changes on state green peas of fine quality were small. Jobbing sales were consummated at $1.35-$1.75 per bushel basket for the best and from 75¢-$1.00 for poorer. Washington green peas of the telephone variety brought $2.50-$2.75 per bushel hamper.

Little activity was noted on the market for celery, as buying was light and supplies from Orange county, N. Y., and northern New Jersey were fairly liberal. Offerings in the rough, packed in two-thirds crates peddled out at $2.75-$3.50 for the best, $2.00-$2.50 for fair quality and from $1.00-$1.50 for poorer.

Despite the fairly plentiful supply of Hudson Valley currants, the market held steady as the demand was fairly good with sales ranging from 6¢-8¢ per quart basket.

The season's first new crop Cobbler potatoes U. S. No. 1 from Long Island sold at $2.37½ per barrel.

Red sour cherries continued to meet a rather slow sale and values, especially an ordinary and small sized fruit tended lower.

Passes Civil Service

John S. Mearns, former publisher of the Ellenville Press and who later established and ran for a time the Ulster County Times, was to report for duty July 1 in the Public Printing office at Washington, he having successfully passed civil service examinations for a position in the composing department.

Owls Foretell Rain

When the hoot owls hoot from their holes in the ground it is time to move teepees away from the lowlands and rivers. Owls have holes in the ground in the prairies where the prairie dogs have dug them. If they emerge and hoot, that is a sign to the Cheyenne Indians that there are rains and floods coming.

Senators' Chances Grow Slimmer, Trimmed By Yankees Yesterday 8-3

By Herbert W. Barker
Associated Press Sports Writer

If it's still too early to count them out of the running, the Washington Senators' chances of retaining the American League pennant nevertheless grow slimmer and slimmer each day.

The partial collapse of what was an all-star pitching staff a year ago and injuries to key men, notably Joe Mauer, and Luke Sewell, have contributed to the "champions' poor showing in the last three weeks.

Their third successive setback and their 11th defeat in 15 games, an 8-3 trouncing from the New York Yankees yesterday, left the Senators in fifth place, eight extremely large games out of first place. Washington solved Johnny Broocks' slants to the extent of 12 hits, but the Senators never were really in the ball game after the third when Lou Gehrig's 22nd home run came with the bases filled. The big Yankee first baseman hit No. 23 with one on in the fifth and also contributed two singles to the good cause, driving in a total of seven runs.

The victory stretched the Yankees' lead over Detroit's Tigers, who were idle, to a game and a half. Cleveland took possession of third place, a few points ahead of the Boston Red Sox, by blanking the Chicago White Sox, 8-0.

Successful singles in the seventh by Eric McNair, Roger Cramer and Bob Johnson gave the Philadelphia Athletics the run they needed to top the Red Sox, 6-5.

A two-game National League program presented the New York Giants with a fine opportunity to increase their lead over the three western clubs, all of whom were idle, and the world's champions didn't fail. They counted 15 hits, and won 13-7 over Brooklyn.

Home runs by Delph Camilli and George Davis helped the Phillies down the Boston Braves, 14-11 in a wild battle at Baker Bowl. Boston's string of 17 hits including Wally Merger's 16th homer and one by Marty Mannus.

(By The Associated Press)

Lou Gehrig, Yankees—Hit two homers and two singles for seven of Yankees' eight runs.

Oral Hildebrand, Indians—Shut out White Sox, allowing eight hits. Joe Moore, Glants—Pinch homer with bases full started Glants on victorious scoring rampage.

Dolph Camilli, Phillies—Four-base clout in eighth broke tie and gave game to Phillies.

Bob Johnson, Athletics—Singled home winning run against Red Sox.

U.P.A. In Tilt With Stone Ridge Tonight

This evening at Hasbrouck Park, the Ulster Protective Association will do battle with the Huron Indians of Stone Ridge. This makes the third appearance of the Indians in this city. Their previous games were with the North Rondout Social Club and the Mayflowers.

Eddie Murphy will grace the slab for the U. P. A.'s with Don Kelly receiving.

The game last evening between the U. P. A. and the Cappy All Stars, at the Athletic Field, was forfeited when the Highlanders failed to put in an appearance.

Crystal Gardens Meet Clintonians

Tonight at the Athletic Field the Crystal Gardens Nine will take on the Clintonians in an Industrial League game.

Both teams have been greatly strengthened and a hard battle is looked for. Martin will be on the mound for the Clintonians while Hoffman will be on the receiving end. Crystal Gardens has not announced a battery. The game will be called at 6:30.

Dykes, Stumpf Best Batters In Downtown Baseball League

WOODSTOCK TOURNEY WON

BY H. STILES OF KINGSTON

The handicap golf tournament held at the Woodstock Country Club July Fourth proved to be a most interesting event. Fifteen of the club's best golfers participated and the result was in doubt until the last scores were turned in.

Harold Stiles of Kingston was the winner of the cash prize, followed by Walter Seaton of Woodstock who was a close second. Judson Phillips of Woodstock was third. Boyer Gonzales of Woodstock was fourth and David Reasoner of Woodstock was fifth. Each of the above named contestants shot in the thirties each round and up until the very last minute the result was in doubt.

The next big tournament and amateurs of the county will be held at the Club during the first week of August.

Purdue Center to Coach Union College Team

Schenectady, N. Y., July 6.—

Arthur C. "Art" Lawrence who has been an outstanding performer as center on Purdue's nationally known football eleven of the past three seasons, will coach the Union College line this fall. He will be assistant to Head Coach G. Elliott Hatfield, former All-Pacific Coast Conference quarterback.

Cecil E. Cantrell, Jr., guard on the Michigan Big Ten Championship eleven of '31 and '32, will also join the coaching staff and assist in coaching the Union line.

Union College has a tough schedule ahead of her and the Big Ten Conference style of play is expected to bolster her team considerably against her old rivals, especially Amherst, Hamilton, R. P. L., Wesleyan and Williams.

Starting out as an understudy of "Ookie" Miller, Purdue's All-American center in 1931 who has also been selected All-American professional center for the past two seasons, "Art" Lawrence appeared as a regular in the center of Purdue's steady backfield line in '31 and '32, and played against Cantrell. The steady play of Lawrence, who by the way is from Schenectady and is familiar with Union's traditions, was one of the biggest factors in Purdue's successes.

The many fans who have watched his career at Purdue have now turned their gaze at Old Union where they hope he will help turn out one of the finest small college elevens in the East.

Lawrence has always been a keen student of the game, and on defense seemed to have the ability to anticipate opponent's plays, while on offense he was an unusually steady and accurate passer and effective blocker.

He was graduated last month from Purdue's school of physical education where he had the benefit of instruction from members of Purdue's staff not only on the theory of line play but also the game in general.

Lawrence was well above the average scholastically at Purdue and also played outfield on the varsity baseball team.

Petey Hayes Fights Chocolate Wednesday

When Petey Hayes goes before the Boxing Commission with the proposal that he will defend the featherweight championship against any opponent when, as and if named by the Commission, he will do it on his own hook, according to Al Weill, who presents Hayes against Kid Chocolate in the second of his all star fistic extravaganzas in Ebbe's Field, Brooklyn, next Wednesday night.

"I'm not interfering with the business of the Boxing Commission," declared Al. "All I'm doing is putting on the best fight show available at the present time. It's my business to give the public a set of fights they'll enjoy. I'm not concerned with titles, or anything like that. Chocolate may be the best featherweight in the world today, or he may not. Any time I stage a match both principals must have a chance to win. If I didn't think Hayes had a good chance to defeat Chocolate, I wouldn't put him on. It's the business of the Boxing Commission to say whether it will recognize the winner as the defender of the title, not mine. It's my business to make and stage bouts. So long as I do that, everything will be O. K."

Weill ordered all the fighters on the card Wednesday to do their training in New York city. On Sunday, the promoter will visit the local gyms where Harry Dubinsky and Jimmy Leto, Lou Ambers and Roger Bernard, the boxers in the other ten round bouts on the program, will be training, to assure himself that they are working hard for their respective fights. All the boxers on the card will appear before the Commission, probably on Monday, to report for physical official examinations.

Weill expects a bigger crowd at his second show than he had at the banner tourney last week, because the prices are lower.

Records Are Falling At Henley-On-Thames

Henley-On-Thames, Eng. July 6. (AP)—Preston's variety eight oared crew and its amateur oarsmen, Winstanley Rowing Club, a former Tiger variety gasman claimed today won their way to the finals of their events—the grand challenge cup and the diamond shells respectively—as records fell in the morning events of the Henley regatta.

Preston's making its first start in the senior row event of the regatta, slammed through to a length victory over Henley College in the good time of 6:50 for the mile, 550 yard course. Henleyford defeated R. F. Winstanley of England, by a length in the diamond shells in 6:15, nine seconds over the record which has stood since 1905. In both races the Americans came from behind to win.

The Princeton crew's performance was overshadowed, however, by the great race of the Leander Rowing Club eight, which defeated the Thames Club in the record time of 6:44, smashing the old mark by seven seconds. They met for the cup tomorrow.

The Thames cup race, in which the Yale lightweight crew is a contender, saw two record breaking performances. The Westminster Bank crew, which Yale will meet in the semi-finals if it wins its quarter final brush, first set a new mark for the event of 6:59, seven seconds under the record, and a moment later the London Rowing Club shaved off another second.

LEARNING TO SWIM

by CLARENCE S. SCHOONMAKER, Y. M. C. A. Secretary.

LESSON V

Go right at it now and swim. Start off with a coast as usual. When you have attained a coasting position start all the machinery going. The motor in back (kick) the wheels on the side (arm) and now you are swimming but you say, I can only keep going as long as my breath holds out, so we will have to find a way to overcome that.

As you reach roll slightly, turn the head to one side and catch your breath through the mouth and exhale under water as we did in the first lesson. You must adjust your breathing to your own needs. Some will breathe on every stroke, others breathe on every other stroke. Let me explain the breathing once again. As you reach out with the right hand for instance, roll the head to the left and quickly grab a breath. Do the same on the other side if you like or you may always breathe from the same side.

You are now swimming the American Crawl. You are not going it perfectly, of course. You will need plenty of practice and some study to improve your stroke. You have a foundation on which to build and you should not be content until you have mastered not only the crawl stroke but the "Single over arm, the Breast, the Side and the Back strokes". There is just one more lesson in this series. We will consider something which every swimmer should know, even the beginner.

Schryvers Clash With Highland on Sunday

Next Sunday afternoon at the Pan Am Field the Schryver All Stars will again strut their stuff. This time against the Highland All Stars.

Frleigh or Martin will do the mound work for the Lumbermen and Joe Hoffman will be behind the plate. The rest of the lineup will be intact. The battery for Highland has not been announced yet but it is thought that Carlo Quintilliano will do the twirling. Upright should be behind the plate.

Irish Block Nine at New Paltz Tonight

This evening at 6:15 the Irish Block Nine of Wilbur will be seen in action against the New Paltz Stars on the Normal School diamond, at New Paltz.

The Irishers will be out for their eighth win of the season and have picked Bob Zoller to do the mound work. Hank Wenzel or Johnny Kozlowski will be behind the plate.

SOCIAL CLUB WILL CROSS BATS WITH SAUGERTIES ON JULY 8.

This coming Sunday, at 3 o'clock, the North Rondout Social Club, will be seen in action at Hasbrouck Park against the Saugerties All Stars. As yet, no batteries have been announced.

The Useful Swallow

There are seven common species of swallows found in the United States, four of which have abandoned to some extent their primitive nesting habits and have attached themselves to the abodes of man, according to the Bureau of Biological Survey. The barn swallow builds exclusively under roofs, mostly in barns and under bridges, having abandoned entirely its former home under cliffs and overhanging rocks. The cliff swallow has also abandoned its nesting site to cliffs and taken up its abode under the eaves of barns, while the martin prefers a more modern home provided for it by farmers and farm children in back yards and around the farmstead. The diet of these birds is composed exclusively of insects. Their food is taken exclusively while on the wing, where they skim from the air or from the tops of tall grass and weeds such flying insects as flies, beetles, flying ants, gnats and many other insects.

THE Spotlight BY GRANTLAND RICE

BALM FOR THE LOWLY
(The heavyweight champion gets so privacy at all complaints. "At times they almost tear off your clothes.")

O Gentle Reader, you and I, may tap no rival on the chin. Nor yet a savage fist let fly at rugged jaws amid the din. We may not feel upon our head the weight of Pugdom's ancient crown. The while our rival waits in bed until his features settle down.

O Gentle Reader, we may not last night's homers our through spare. Unclaimed as Kings of Swat who founder on from base to base. They may not bind upon our dome the festive olive bough of fame. Because we drove some runner home and set a record for the game.

But as we wander through the land no howling mobs meet train or box. No souvenirs collecting band is harshly laid on shirt or coat. And when we yearn to take the air no long lines wait outside the door. To greet us with a noisy blare, or wolf-like, try to track our spoor.

Think not that it is envy's cry, or that the grapes are turning sour. But it is something not to fly to sheltered places every hour. To saunter to our humble jobs with none to bother where we eat. Nor fight our way through cheering mobs—who'll cheer still louder when we're beaten.

THE RUN OF FORM

No game runs any truer to form than tennis. It is a far different game from golf, where the tides can swirl and swerve in a half dozen directions.

And the same goes for baseball where a tallender can trim a pennant winner several times a year.

The answer to the consistency of tennis form has been shown again at Wimbledon where the four outstanding stars at the beginning of play were Perry, Crawford, Wood and Shields reached the semi-final bracket and took Crawford to beat Stosen.

Imagine anyone's attempting to name the four semi-finalists in the next amateur golf championship at Brookline!

Last September George Dunlap, Max Marston and Chandler Egan qualified only in the play-off, careening along the grotto's edge. Yet Dunlap and Marston came to the final bracket and Egan hammered Johnny Goodman, open champion then, from the list.

Both Lawson Little and Johnny Goodman were recently beaten in the Transmississippi.

You might name 10 men, four of whom should be semi-finalists, and not hit a pick.

In tennis, if you are a better tennis player than the other party, you can nearly always win. Not always—but the average will be high. The same is usually true in polo. Polo stars lack the wide and shifting ranges of form known to golf, baseball and football.

In baseball and football there are too many players involved to give form its chance in any one star.

THE ALL-STAR GAME

This will be true of Tuesday's all-star scramble at the Polo Grounds. It will be interesting to see what such mad mullahs of maul as Gehrig, Ruth, Fox and Manush can do against the left and right arms of Hubbell, Dean, Warneke, Munger and Frankhouse, who have slipped along a fast clip in the National League.

The same goes for the other side of the fence.

There is almost no difference in comparative infield and outfield strength—at least not enough for one game to prove the point. But in this one game the crowd should see a triple portion of baseball played.

Among the leading individual duels the mob will have a chance to compare Gehrig and Terry at first—Gehrig and Frisch at second—especially these four ballplayers because they happen to be leading candidates for the season's all-star role.

Gehrig and Terry, before they are through, may even enter their challenges as the greatest first basemen of all time. Neither should be far away.

There are plenty around Detroit who will tell you that Gehrig is the top of all second basemen—not even barring Eddie Collins or Larry Lajoie. This is the star Tiger's best year, and he has been a great ballplayer most of the route.

ALL-TIME ALL-STARS

How many ballplayers in this flashy cast would belong on all-time all-star team?

No one yet hanging around has been able to displace Honus Wagner, at short or Jimmy Collins at first—Cobb or Speaker in outfield—or Ty Cobb in year with Mathewson, Johnson, Alexander and one or two others.

But they still have time ahead in which to keep on climbing.

Ruth has fixed his place on the all-time team while Gehrig, Terry, Gehrig, Frisch, Cochran and Dickey are all still within shooting range, and some of these are not so far away.

This is the type of show that the Babe Ruth of other years would have taken at one gulp. It would have been his dish. It was last year. And the big boy is still surprising enough to furnish his share of the fireworks at this coming contest. The vital spark may not burn as consistently as it once did, but it is still there under pressure.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 6.—The slow-moving market displayed today although the signs of business today were high and the feeling was a whole lot better than a few days ago.

The majority of traders, while inclined to be a trifle more bullish than a few days ago, showed little disposition to take aboard large amounts of stock. Extreme dullness prevailed during the greater part of the session. At the same time, a few signs of improvement in the market were noted. It was noted that the market was quite timid.

Shares of Coca Cola, Cuban American Sugar preferred and New York Central moved up 1 to 2 points to 1934 peaks. Other gains included Western Union, International Telephone, American Telephone, Chrysler, Western Union, Santa Fe, Great Northern, Consolidated Gas, Public Service of New Jersey, North American, Philadelphia Reading Coal & Iron, Great Western Sugar, Corn Products, Standard Brands, National Dairy Products, Celanese, Industrial Rayon, U. ## 2 Women Are Hurt In Auto Accidents

Two Separate Crashes Near City Result In Medical Care for New Jersey Residents.

Mrs. James Monaghan of 6614 66th Lane, Ridgewood, N. J., was taken to the Benedictine Hospital this afternoon for treatment of injuries received when the Ford sedan in which she and her husband were riding turned over near Torino's Inn, on the South Boulevard. The accident, it is stated, happened when Mr. Monaghan lost control of the car on a curve and it plunged through the fence and turned over on its side. Mrs. Monaghan's injuries were treated by Dr. Bush and her condition was reported to be fair.

A Chevrolet car owned and operated by F. A. Rowe of Dover, N. J., a piano-tuner, left the highway shortly after noon near the Whitwick Golf Course on Hurley avenue and crashed into a pole. The car turned over and Mrs. Rowe was injured. A passing motorist picked up the injured woman and took her to the Kingston Hospital. Sheriff Saxe was called and Deputy Molyneux went to the scene to make an investigation. Apparently no other car was involved. At the hospital Mrs. Rowe's condition was reported as not serious.

THREE CORNERED ACCIDENT OCCURRED NEAR HIGHLAND.
Highland, July 6.—An accident about 7 o'clock on the evening of July 3, involving two trucks and a car, occurred on the north road near the Patti home at Riverside. Arthur Deutch, a salesman from Brooklyn, with his wife and child driving a Chevrolet sedan traveling north was in collision with a Dodge truck driven by Samuel Martin on Poughkeepsie. A Ford truck driven by Herbert Lyons was also mixed in the wreckage. Mr. Deutch's child, Bernadine, received injuries to her nose and face. Martin and Herbert Lyons were uninjured, but Lyons' younger brother, Richard, 14, had an injured arm, while a relative, Alice Robinson, 8, was more seriously injured. The injured were taken to the office of Dr. C. F. Watkins for treatment.

Ellenville Board
Discusses Milk

The question of modifying the ordinance which prohibits the sale of any except pasteurized milk within the limits of the village of Ellenville, came up for another long discussion at the monthly meeting of the Village Board Monday evening. The question was brought up when Samuel Divine of Kerhonkson appeared before the Board and asked what action, if any, was to be taken regarding the milk ordinance.

Dr. Frank B. Holcombe, village health officer, said that the village would undergo great expense if the ordinance was amended or rescinded; that to permit the sale of Grade A certified milk every cow would have to be examined every month, as well as the person doing the milking and that there would have to be monthly inspections. He was opposed to the sale of Grade A raw milk, not only because of the expense, but because he did not believe it would be a safe milk supply.

Trustee Ulster Palmer was in favor of allowing the people of the village to vote on the question, saying that they should have the right to decide for themselves which milk they should use.

The Trustees also rescinded the village ordinance, which has been enforced several years, prohibiting the sale of fireworks within the village limits.

Simple Rites for
Mme. Marie Curie

Simples Rites July 6 (P).—Mme. Marie Curie, 66-year-old scientist, was buried today as she had lived in the simplest simplicity.

There was a 10 minute ceremony without a trace of pompous solemnity. Her frail, wasted body was lowered in a plain oak casket into the same grave with her husband in a crowded and least expensive part of the little village cemetery. The husband was killed by a truck in 1906.

Flowers were distributed to each of the 25 laboratory associates and 150 friends, and relatives, who were there when an automobile horse brought the casket at 11:30 a. m.

The mourners formed a line and each placed a rose on the closed casket in waiting by.

Mme. Curie's two daughters, heavily veiled and wearing black, and a son-in-law, according to French custom, stood nearby and received condolences.

The flower ceremony for the woman, who with her husband discovered radium, was conducted without a word being spoken.

The mourners and the family left the cemetery before the casket was lowered into the grave.

It was just ten minutes from the time the casket arrived until all had gone.

Londonderry Retains All
Charm of Its Many Years

With all its modern business, Londonderry retains all the charm of its hundreds of years. Locally it is known as Derry, having been named for the "Queen of Erin's daughter, fair Daire." The prefix was added when James I granted the lands about Derry to the city of London, says the Chicago Daily News.

The indignant Irish pledged themselves to inclose Derry within walls to preserve its freedom and Irish individuality. The ancient walls still stand, girding the middle of the hill on which the city is built, though Londonderry itself has long since spread beyond their confinement. The wide walls are more than a mile in circumference, but have only seven gates, so that one must make quite a jaunt to find a passageway through them.

Londonderry is the site of the abbey founded by Columba, one of Ireland's greatest saints. In the distance, on another high hill, looms the ancient stronghold of the lords of Tyrone, which both St. Columba and St. Patrick are said to have visited. Here, too, the massive stone wall still stands though the old castle has disappeared.

Really Big Bronzes

Scientific measurements of wind velocities by means of well-exposed pressure tube anemometers, fixed at a height of 40 feet above the ground, show that the wind never blows steadily. Its speed is made up of a succession of gusts and lulls. Thus the tremendous velocities that occur in tropical zones are of momentary duration only. While it is believed that gusts of wind in tornadoes sometimes attain a speed of over 200 miles an hour, the highest wind velocity ever measured scientifically is 150 miles an hour. This has been registered on two occasions—at Black river, Jamaica, on November 17, 1912, and at the mouth of Columbia river, Washington, on January 29, 1921. The fastest wind ever recorded in the British Isles was 111 miles an hour during a gale at Scilly on December 6, 1929. As proof of wind's fierceness, the average speed for an hour's run of this particular wind amounted to only 65 miles.—Tit-Bits Magazine.

American Oil Goodwill Car Here

The American Oil Company, makers of the famous Amoco-Gas and Orange American Gas, brought its "Motor to Florida" goodwill car to Kingston yesterday evening. The car is unique in its make-up as it carries the only portable moving Neon sign in the world, and requires 22,000 volts to operate. The car is equipped with seven motors, weighing more than one and one-quarter tons. Brilliantly illuminated, the car presents a wonderful spectacle at night. A complete tour of all states from Maine to Florida is being made.

N. Y. State's Pastures
Showing Improvement

Albany, N. Y., July 6 (P).—New York state's pastures and hay crop recovering from the recent drouth, with a one per cent gain noted in both the past week, the Department of Agriculture and Markets announced today.

Hay is reported 61 per cent of a normal crop and pastures 64 per cent, as compared with several points lower on June 1.

Pastures made the greatest gain in St. Lawrence, Jefferson and Lewis counties, all heavy milk producing sections, where an increase from 68 per cent to 72 per cent of normal was reported. Hay, however, decreased from 68 to 66 per cent.

Pastures also improved from 62 to 65 per cent in the heavy milk producing area of Oswego, Onondaga, Herkimer, Cayuga, Otsego, Madison, Cortland, Chenango and Otsego counties, although the hay crops declined from 65 to 62 per cent.

Hay and pastures in the New York city-Long Island section continue to lead the state with a rating of about 80 per cent of normal.

The department said that a feed shortage looms in the dairy sections this winter despite the improvement in crops.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, July 6.—Hope Lodge, No. 65, Knights of Pythias, will meet in regular session at Pythian Hall this evening. As this will be the last meeting until the first Friday evening in September all members are urged to be present.

The weekly meeting of the Boy Scouts will be held this evening. Warren Howe of Union City, N. J., spent the Fourth with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howe.

Yellow Spot in the Eye

The blind spot of the retina of the eye where the optic nerve enters is familiar to most persons as being a spot on the retina where there is no sensibility to light. Yet each eye has a yellow spot, according to an expert in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, which is in the center of the retina and which is most sensitive to light of the entire retina. "It is with this spot that our vision is directed," says this expert. "If we fix our eye on a line of printed matter, the center of the line is distinctly and sharply seen, but the words toward the end of the line are vague. Thus, in ordinary reading, our eyes run along the line and focus several times. In other words, we bring the successive words onto the yellow spot."
